not cover the whole possible field of war crimes. The Nazi German war lords were not punished for losing a war, as some of them claimed. But they could not have been punished if they had not lost it.

A victorious aggressor in a world war could not legally be punished by his victims. It is more likely that he might adopt the precedent of Napoleon and Tokyo to punish the leaders who resisted him.

The only solution, of course, is the punishment of aggression at its start by the combined force of international action. That is the United Nations' job. So far the United Nations has given little cause for hope that it could forestall any serious threat to world peace. The will and the means to punish aggression after a war is morally right, but it is far from the perfect answer.

East Shipping Heads Back to Normal

By The Associated Press

Shipping operations along the eastern Atlantic coast appeared headed back to normal today as the railroad freight embargo was lifted in eight cities. But the lull in waterfront business along the West coast for the last three months due to strikes continued.

The embargo on freight intended for export or coastwise movement was lifted by the association of American railroads in eight ports—New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Hampton Roads, Va., Wilmington, Del., Port Newark, N. J., and Portland, Me.

Most of the 65,000 AFL longshoremen on strike for 18 days at East coast ports from Maine to Virginia returned to work yesterday after approving a wage increase of 13 cents an hour for day work and 19 1/2 cents for night and holiday work. About 250 ships had been tied up in New York.

Only one of the four unions in the Pacific coast maritime strike, the CIO longshoremen, have ratified a new contract. The other three seagoing unions have not reached agreement with employers. A fourth union is involved in a jurisdictional dispute.

Agreements still have not been reached between Pacific American Shipowners association and the three striking unions, the independent marine firemen, the CIO marine cooks and the CIO radio operators. The AFL sailors' union of the Pacific, not on strike but made by the shipping union, has agreed to certain jobs and been granted certain wage increase before members return to work.

In another labor development, members of a New York teamsters union local who returned to their jobs yesterday after a week-long strike, have voted to accept a straight pay raise of 22 1/2 cents an hour. They had the alternative of a pay boost of 17 1/2 cents an hour plus welfare and insurance benefits. The employers had agreed to either plan the union men voted. The strike by the local, which claims 3,500 members, had tied up about one third of the city's general trucking business.

Apparently the Army Has Changed

Denver, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Colorado's first postwar draftees pinched themselves and wondered if this is the army.

The army threw them a swank party last night. It made them chandeliers generals. Tough old sergeants jumped at their commands. The brass looked on and smiled.

There were uniforms and bands and songs and comedy. And there was food that never graced a wartime chow line.

When it was all over, they went back to warm hotel rooms instead of the cold tents of wartime induction centers. But today, they heard for Fort Ord, Calif., and the realities of basic training.

The party was all a part of the army plan to prove there's a new look in soldiering. But it was still by the numbers. The 22-page script for the affair was big enough to swallow a D-day field order.

As one inductee put it, "we weren't exactly invited. We weren't exactly ordered. They told us very nicely that we had to go. It was all part of the things we had to do the day we were inducted."

There was a little of the old hurry-up-and-wait. The group was told to be on hand at 7 p. m. The party got underway 35 minutes later.

Sergeant lined them up and paired them off with their dates. USO and YWCA hostesses in formal gowns. Sixty-one men were slated for induction but six were turned down at the last moment. Nobody remembered to tell the girls so there were six spares.

The men pinned corsages, also courtesy of the army, on their dates. The girls pinned stars on the men and gave them printed commissions as general for the night.

While 30 sergeants sat on the dance floor and ate caviar, hotel waiters served orange juice, prime ribs, rissole potatoes, pressed salads, rolls and butter, ice cream cake and coffee.

There was a floor show. Then there was dancing.

At midnight, the band gave out with a roll of the drums and 12 found bangs with the rymbals. The party was over. The girls went home. Two sergeants lined the men up, shouted "forward march!" and took them back to their rooms.

Southern Rivers at Flood Stage

Atlanta, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Rivers in South Carolina, Alabama and Florida continued to rise toward flood stage today as clear, cold weather spread across Dixie after a weekend of torrential rains.

Flooded streams in Georgia began receding to their normal limits, but they left behind a power shortage of debris and mud.

In one city, a curtailed supply of drinking water.

Some roads in Georgia and Tennessee were still impassable because of high water, cave-ins and landslides.

The Alabama river was nearing flood stage at several points in Alabama. Parts of Selma were expected to be underwater early today, and at Montgomery the river was due to reach 55 feet in the north section of the city. Evacuation plans were ready to move 10 families to safety.

In Northwest Florida, Col. A. G. Matthews of the state division of conservation and research said the Conecuh, Choctawhatchee and Apalachicola rivers would probably surge above flood mark today.

Matthews said the Conecuh would probably rise two feet above the flood stage at Brewton, Ala., just north of the Florida line. He predicted four feet of flood water on the Choctawhatchee at the border town of Newton and Geneva, Ala., and five feet at Blountstown, Fla., on the Apalachicola.

Floods still posed the main problem in South Carolina. The Pee Dee, Wateree, Edisto, Black, Lynches, Congaree and Broad rivers were expected to overflow their banks sometime today.

Metropolitan John E. Lockwood of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Charleston said the Pee Dee would reach a 35-foot crest at Cheraw this afternoon. Reports from that district said the river already was beginning to escape its banks and cover acres of farm land.

Lowland residents were warned of the danger and most of them moved their cattle out of the swampland.

Anti-Labor Legislation Move Started

Washington, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Secretary of Labor, Robert C. La Follette today opened an administration drive against a "tide of anti-labor legislation" in the states.

He told delegates to the 15th annual conference of state labor commissioners that some state laws are "worse than Taft-Hartley," and he urged them to unite in a campaign for "sound labor standards."

While Tobin was opening the three-day session his aides were busy drafting a substitute measure for the 1947 federal labor law. President Truman has pledged to repeal it.

The secretary said in his prepared address that the state labor groups had scored most gains in the four years after the first such conference here in 1933. But since then, he said, "the drive for sound labor legislation has slowed to a walk."

"Indeed," he said, "a counter-trend has developed of attacks on the rights of organized workers, of diffusion of labor functions among various agencies of the federal and state governments, of successful attempts to weaken the federal and state labor departments through cuts in funds or withholding of increased appropriations."

"The energies of labor officials and organized labor have necessarily been diverted to defending their gains rather than to pursuing new goals. You have literally been fighting with your backs to the wall."

Now, Tobin added, "the tide of battle has turned."

"We may take encouragement," he said, "from the recent rejection by the people of Maine, Massachusetts and New Mexico of governor anti-labor shop proposals. This is certainly a cheering reversal of the trend in 1946-47 when 34 states passed anti-labor laws."

"But by far our greatest encouragement comes from the reaffirmation by the American people just this month of their belief in liberal, progressive principles."

Noting that there are 1,500,000 idle today, mostly between jobs, Tobin urged that the state labor commissioners work to eliminate mass unemployment.

"The fear of unemployment," he said, "ranks right behind the atomic bomb in the minds of the American people."

He proposed also that the state officials strive to boost the minimum wage from 4 cents an hour, and to write fair labor standards acts where there are no present wage laws.

Madam Chiang to Limit Stay to Two Weeks

The generalissimo's wife is due to arrive in Washington tomorrow. She is now on route from Honolulu to New York City, where she will board President Truman's former plane, "The Sacred Cow," for the last leg of her trip from Shanghai.

The Chinese embassy in Washington said today that the Chinese government is making the trip to the United States a matter of national importance. It is making the trip a matter of national importance.

Drys Will Continue Working on Local Option Elections

Little Rock, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Clyde C. Coulter said today Arkansas Anti-Saloon League will continue concentrating on local option liquor elections and an educational program designed to dry up the state.

He declined to comment on reports that the league is planning a statewide vote on repeal of the act legalizing liquor sales.

In the general election early this month dry forces beat down a proposed amendment which would have restricted local option liquor elections to general election dates.

A local option vote is slated in Marion county next Tuesday, and petitions for a liquor election have been filed in Union county but are being challenged in court. Both counties permit sale of intoxicants.

It stopped the Berlin air lift, kept ambassadors, generals and ministers of state from keeping important appointments, and made millions late for work.

Divorce Ring Cracked in New York

New York, Nov. 30 — (AP) — District Attorney Frank S. Hogan announced today the smashing of a New York divorce racket ring with the arrest of two men and a young housewife on charges of perjury in connection with divorce actions.

Hogan said one of the men, Max Zuckerman, 53, a private detective, admitted "flagrant perjury in hundreds of divorce cases in the past four years."

He also said his office had obtained "evidence and statements" implicating at least 10 attorneys and maybe more.

Others arrested are Mrs. Sam Ellis, 29-year-old mother of three children, and Samuel Schneiderman, 57, a piev watchman.

Hogan said Mrs. Ellis admitted she worked with Zuckerman in 35 divorce cases in the past 18 months, sometimes as the "unknown woman" in raids preceding divorce action and also as a witness giving false testimony to raids which never occurred.

Adultery is the only grounds for divorce in New York state and "evidence" is usually presented before a divorce is granted.

Hogan said Schneiderman admitted perjury in one case involving a divorce proceeding.

South Carolinian Outstanding Doctor of Year

St. Louis, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Dr. W. L. (Buck) Pressly of Due West, S. C., was named the outstanding family doctor of the year by the American Medical Association today.

He will be presented on Thursday night with a gold medal for outstanding service to his community, winner over the doctors nominated for the honor from 18 states.

Runners-up are Dr. Lyle (Bunny) Hare of Spearfish, S. D., and Dr. Charles Manly Horton of Franklin, Ia.

Clyde (Shackover) Scott, the Razorbacks' brilliant tailback, had been asked to play. Barnhill added, however, that he thinks Scott should stay out of the game to take care of a knee injury which kept him out of Arkansas' last two games of the season.

If he recovers sufficiently from the injury, Scott is expected to enter professional football next year.

"Wes" Roberts, Motor Tank Salesman, delivers gasoline in Searcy, Ark.

What should a man work For?...

Put that question to "Wes" Roberts, here, and he'll answer about like this:

"Well, you could say a man works for a living, but there's more to it than just that. A man has his self-respect to keep. He wants to work at a job he likes. He wants to do something useful. He wants fair pay and steady hours—with some time to himself and his family. He wants a chance to get ahead and he wants to save some money. And he wants some security in case of accident or sickness. Then, when his working years are done, he wants to know he can retire on an annuity."

Today, in Esso Standard Oil Company, 28,000 men and women have jobs which offer exactly these things. They have such jobs because of a company policy that was set up over 30 years ago—and developed side-by-side with our workers ever since. It is a policy based on the belief that the heart of a business is its people—that the best possible jobs attract the best possible workers.

Workers in this company today have everything outlined in the statement above—including vacations with pay, sickness benefits, cash savings in a Thrift Plan, and the opportunity to retire with income for life.

But this policy hasn't grown from "generosity" alone. It's a practical, common-sense business policy, and a good one.

Our 28,000 workers, for instance, have now been with us on the average for almost 14 years—8,400 of them over 20 years.

Right now—with the demand for oil products far higher than ever before, it means a lot—to us and to you—to have a staff of experienced, steady, loyal workers like these pushing our facilities to the limit to get you the oil products you want—good products at fair prices!

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

Eugene Lyons, a professional brand from the burning has come up with the idea of organizing a society of Red baiters. This might have been all right for purposes of discussion, but then he had to go and start talking about the food that such an organization might do. If I have any bigotry in my juices it is a racial abhorrence of people who cold-bloodedly set out to do unprovoked good to other people, because all the immortal majorities who get out nation to hating in 1929 and have kept us at a kicking boil till now were do-gooders. They are a breed conceived in malice and dedicated to the propagation of evil. It is a curse they have in common, times on frightened souls and, just as the person and cop would find themselves professionally obsolete in a world of total peace and piety, they must have to woe to feed upon or die.

I refer you to the roster of holy-wood provocateurs who have called themselves reformers in our time, and put it to you whether men of good will would intentionally sign up with any new lodge consecrated to the purposes which they profess. In our time, I have watched them all, from Bishop Cannon, who put poison in our hootch in God's name, to Henry Wallace, giving fagots for the purifying fires, and I have yet to find one whose love of virtue and piety for the poor and ailing was comparable in volume to his voluptuous hatred. I might say that there have been few complaints along this line regarding any work upon the rogues of social uplift and unionism, but only from the ill-informed. Any person who has ever looked to me for good works has only himself to blame, for my motives are obviously retributive. I may have wrought here and there, but I have little to show for it.

Mr. Lyons is a back-sid bala of the early New York crop who went to Moscow for the United Press and came home yelping that the Bolsheviks were dirty dogs, were given to impure acts and committed to holocaust. He wrote an expose called "Assignments in Utopia," which has become a library book for cosmic oracles, and the only reliable reference but not privileged matter like the invaluable five-foot shelf of the Dies and Thomas committee reports. His acquaintance among the New York and Washington Communists was extensive and his hatred of his old comrades purifies and renews itself as he pursues his career and they pursue him. It is a dull paradox that the man who called "The Red Decade," likewise reliable for reference but not privileged matter like the invaluable five-foot shelf of the Dies and Thomas committee reports.

Injury Costs Scott Ball Toting Title

Dallas, Nov. 30 —(AP)—A knee injury has cost Arkansas' great Clyde Scott the title of champion of the Southwest conference.

Lindy Berry, the versatile quarterback of Texas Christian University, edged out Scott for the ball totting crown when the Razorback star missed two games because of the injury.

Berry also won the total offense crown. His 190 runs netted him 280 yards.

Laney Promises No Wholesale Prison Releases

Little Rock, Nov. 30 —(UP)—Gov. Ben Laney said today there would be no wholesale releases from the state penitentiary during the closing weeks of his four-year administration.

The governor admitted, however, that the pressure for pardons and paroles is increasing steadily as his second term nears a close.

"My clemency policy will remain exactly the same as it has been in the past," Laney declared.

He also said there would be no relaxation of regulations governing the issuance of light sentences. Under the present rules, no parole will be considered until Jan. 1. The usual number probably will be granted at that time, Laney said.

Early in his administration, the governor set up a program under which he granted clemency to convicts only upon recommendations of his board of pardons and paroles.

"In spite of the fact that some people have condemned the par-

Friday night the game of the year will be played at Hammers Stadium starting at 8 o'clock pitting a strong squad of players representing the local Lions and Kiwanis Clubs.

All benefits will go to the local Youth Center.

Recruiting by both sides has been about as active as the game will probably be. Each side has had a team to take care of the recruiting and the "purity code" had nothing to do with it. There is a case where a player has signed up with both sides.

The High School band will divide into two sections one for the Lions and one for the Kiwanians. Cheerleaders will lead each rooting section, in fact this part of the show may be more entertaining than the game itself.

In an effort to get up some sort of signal all players are asked to meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday night at the school with Coaches Martin Reese and Raymond Byers at ends; Freeman Stone, Cleveland Garrett at tackle; Bobby Ellen at center; Dean and Woodrow Parsons at guard; Foy Hammons, Sr. at quarterback; Eric Archer, Jr. and Foy Hammons at half; and W. ## AIC Team: Play 4 Post Season Games

Little Rock, Nov. 29 —(AP)—Three Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference football teams will play in four postseason games, but the champions aren't among the bowl-bound elevens.

Arkansas Tech and Magnolia A. & M. finished the campaign in a tie for first place, but Tech is recognized as the official champion under conference rules because it was the defending titlist.

The far Tech hasn't been placed in a postseason classic. Magnolia was chosen to open the AIC's bid for bowl honors. The Mulderiders will play Eastern Oklahoma A. & M. in the Papoose Bowl at Oklahoma City Friday night.

Quachita, which lost out of the tie race with a 3-3 start, but they caught fire to finish with eight victories and two defeats in all games, will make two postseason appearances. The Tigers will play Southwestern Oklahoma State in Texoma Bowl at Denison, Tex., Dec. 11 and Hardin-Simmons university in a Shrine charity game in War Memorial stadium at Little Rock Dec. 18.

Says Truman to Go Through With Rights Program

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—An official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said today President Truman had "expressed determination to go straight through" with his civil rights program.

White talked to newsmen after conferring with Mr. Truman at the White House.

He said they had discussed the civil rights program. Asked what Mr. Truman had said about it, White replied:

"He expressed determination to go straight through with it."

A reporter noted that there has been talk in Congress of working out a compromise that might be satisfactory to the president.

It was then that White said he had seen no signs of compromise in discussing the matter with Mr. Truman.

New Look for Buick Convertible

HERE'S BUICK'S graceful new Buick Super convertible for 1949, completely re-styled and streamlined from bumper to bumper. Note the flowing full-length fenders with functional chrome "venti-ports" for cooling the engine compartment, full-view curved windshield and rear window, one-piece wrap-around bumpers and a spacious luggage compartment. The lower, wider grille and distinctive hood contribute to Buick's styling individuality. Overall length of all 1949 Buick Super and Roadmaster cars is reduced three inches to facilitate parking and storage. All 1949 Buick convertibles have hydraulic push-button controls to raise or lower the top, adjust the front seat and raise or lower all windows. Buick's "no-shift, clutchless" Dynaflo Drive is standard equipment on 1949 Roadmaster models and optional on Super series cars. Public display of 1949 Buick models will begin in dealer showrooms Nov. 26.

Arkansan Held for Robberies

Salt Lake City, Nov. 29 (AP)—Salt Lake City police held two men and a woman today in connection with a series of robberies in Nevada and Utah.

The three were arrested yesterday at Ogden as they boarded an eastbound bus. They were brought here.

Detective W. T. Sathoff named them as William J. Pando, 25, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Jeanne Randall, 18, his wife, of Little Rock, Ark.; and Doyle Bos, 18, Paris, Ark.

Sathoff said Bos carried a .32 caliber revolver. He said the three would be questioned about robberies at Elzy, Nev., and Salt Lake City.

Sheriff T. J. McLaughlin of Elzy reported Saturday that two men and a woman bound Allen Dalby of Ogden and left him in the auto car at Elzy. The woman, who had been picked up by Dalby as hitchhiker, disappeared with Dalby's automobile.

The missing car was found abandoned late Saturday near Garfield, 26 miles west of Salt Lake City.

A Salt Lake City man, Willie Moore, 25, reported two men entered his hotel room early yesterday, bound him and took $12.

Shortly afterward a taxi driver, Allene W. McGregor, 21, said he drove two men and a woman to Layton, where they forced him at gunpoint to turn the car over to them. The vehicle ran out of gas, however, and the trio abandoned it, leaving McGregor bound with strips cut from a blanket.

McGregor said the three men were dressed in civilian clothes.

Two Condemned Japs Ask Court to Spare Lives

Washington, Nov. 29 (AP)—Two wartime Japanese leaders, condemned to hang as war criminals, asked the United States Supreme Court today to save their lives.

Petitions for court reviews of their sentences were filed on behalf of General Kenji Dohira, known as "The Lawrence of Manchuria," and Koki Hirota, former premier. No appeals were filed on behalf of Hideki Tojo and four other Japanese leaders who also were sentenced to be executed.

American attorneys for Dohira and Hirota questioned in the petitions the legality of the trials conducted by an international military tribunal. They asked that the same international tribunal, but with Japanese leaders who also were sentenced to be executed.

Attorneys said similar petitions will be filed later on behalf of five other Japanese convicted by the same international tribunal, but who were given prison sentences.

Today's petition were filed by William Logan, Jr., of New York City, and David F. Smith, of this city.

Prescott Public Library has recently received a nice collection of books from the State Library Commission, which includes books for both children and adults.

The collection for adults suggests a warm fire and a book to enjoy through the winter months. The children need no suggestion. If you have any children's books you can donate, they would be appreciated.

The library had unusual visitors last week: the teachers of the primary department, Mrs. Stone, Miss Adams and Mrs. McChen. Each brought her respective grade to see and understand the use of a public library. While they are too young to be permitted to check books on their own responsibility they agreed it would be nice for their teachers to check their books for their story hours.

The Prescott Police Department has made its second quarterly report to the City Council, with Chief Johnson reporting that in the last quarter fines collected to the amount of $1,582 and for the second quarter, $1,431, making a total of $2,993 fines collected and paid for the last six months.

McMath Committee Wants Election Laws Revised

Little Rock, Nov. 29 (AP)—Does Arkansas need to revise its election laws?

The Election Law Revision committee of Gov.-elect Sid McMath apparently thinks so.

A preliminary draft suggesting a complete new election code for the state was discussed by the committee at a meeting here yesterday. The group will meet next month to make a final draft for presentation to the 1949 legislature.

Some of the changes which may go into the new code are:

Compulsory service by persons selected to serve as election officials.

A positive voting procedure.

A limit on political campaign expenses.

Approval of voting machines on a local option basis.

Recognition of a political party primary as a part of the state's election machinery.

Making the governor responsible for conduct of elections.

Nathan Schoenfeld, Hot Springs, Ark., member of the committee, said the revision of all present laws is essential as some of them are not clear and apparently have conflicting provisions.

The committee will meet next month to make a final draft for presentation to the 1949 legislature.
